

Local HOSA Leadership Handout

What is HOSA?

- A student-led organization that operates at the international, state, and local level
- Held at the middle, secondary, and post-secondary levels
- A powerful instructional tool that combines the health science related curriculum and classroom
  - Learn beyond the classroom

CTSO Association

- Career and Technical Student Organizations: name of state conference with DECA, FCCLA, and SkillsUSA
- Moving forward, we will NOT be participating in CTSO Convention
- Instead, we are opting to have our own conference for HOSA called SLC, the State Leadership Conference

Important questions to ask yourself about your leadership position:

- What responsibilities do your leadership position entail?
- How will you carry out your duties in that position?

Question/Evaluation Section: In order to better build a connection between the state and local levels, we have some things we'd like you to shed some light on. By answering these questions, you are aiding the strength in the bond between state and local leadership and setting the foundation for how we will continue to strengthen that bond as the future approaches.
